

I fully support satellite radio - the traffic and weather channels are an added feature that is important especially if you are traveling across the US. The variety and quality are so refreshing since all local channels play the same music every day of the week - variety is the key word!!